This office uses Z Wave to enhance body contouring results!

- No down time
- Visible results
- Gentle and comfortable
- Non-invasive treatment
- Quicker, easier recovery

The Treatment is Radial Pulse Therapy (RPT) - The Device is Z Wave Pro

Z Wave enhances body contouring results by transmitting powerful sound waves onto and through the skin. This energy is delivered via an electromagnetic applicator, then spreads out radially and penetrates the skin and deeper soft tissues. (Picture the gentle radial waves generated when dropping a pebble into a still pond.) Septae and fat cells are positively impacted, significantly enhancing outcome and recovery when used following body contouring devices.

Z Wave treats abdomen, upper arms, legs, and buttocks following these fat treatment technologies:

- Cryolipolysis®
- Laser
- Radio Frequency
- Ultrasound

Is the Z Wave treatment painful?

No, quite the contrary. Many patients comment that the Z Wave treatment feels similar to a relaxing massage.

How many treatments will I need?

It depends on your specific condition. For example, Z Wave after Cryolipolysis® typically requires only one treatment, instead of massage. The Z Wave treatment takes about 4 minutes per treated area.

How does Z Wave compare to hand massage after a body contouring procedure?

Z Wave lends consistent therapy for the entire treatment, removing the subjectivity of hand massage.

What kind of results can I expect?

Z Wave will enhance the experience and outcome of your contouring procedure.

What are the advantages of Z Wave?

Z Wave is an effective treatment to enhance body contouring results, can shorten recovery time and minimize the occurrence of side effects.
